

DAM EARTHQUAKES

Exclusively by JT

Based on my personal recent research, I have a theory of an anticipated "False Flag".

This theory may be far reached, however, I feel compelled to share my thoughts and pray that I am wrong.

Recently the news is full of pending doom for the Oroville, California dam. The spillway had a small hole in it but not addressed expeditiously became a huge gaping section now missing and the earth below it awash.

There are eight or nine reservoirs above the Oroville dam that are at maximum capacity.

There is still substantial rain and over an inch of snow fell again just last night, March 4 2017. This will again increase the water level at the Oroville dam as well the already maximum capacity filled reservoirs above the dam. Warmer weather is also expected to melt snow, 600 inches deep in some areas, which will add to the already full reservoirs.

Atmospheric rivers appear to be directly atop of the Oroville dam location dumping many inches of rain per day.

Further still, a dam in Eastern Nevada has already breached and washed out about a football field length of earth beneath the railroad trestle now just hanging in mid air now looking like a footbridge.

A once dry desert town is now sand bagged to keep the water flowing down what once was the road.

Looking at Google maps the Oroville dam, should it break, will flood the Feather river, the Sacramento river and others.

The dam that recently broke in Nevada is above the Hoover dam. The Hoover dam is the only dam in America that has its own Hoover Dam Federal Police agency. I am sure there is a logical reason for this agency. Perhaps the movie Transformers holds the key.

Further still, reviewing the mineral maps of America the nation's largest gold deposits are directly in the locations of Feather and Sacramento Rivers and Oroville dam estimated path of destruction should it break.

Also in the latest news, it is being reported by several sources that the amount of water in the Oroville dam is going to trigger an earthquake. This would result in extensive structural and other damage to the dam and worse.

Now, I am not an engineer but nor am I blind, and even I see the writing on the wall.

Any engineer, especially those who built these dams, knows, or should have known, that the water held in a dam is NOT going to be the cause of an earthquake, or those same engineers would never have built the dams.

Reverse the scenario. An earthquake is going to cause damage to the dam. Much more logic applied here.

Just last summer, around June 2016, over twenty thousand federal, state, and local authorities came to southern Oregon and elsewhere in close proximity, preparing for "a catastrophic event," specifically, an earthquake.

In the news as recent as yesterday Arizona residents are hearing those loud "Thunderous Booms" and earthshaking "Rumbles" again. Fire departments, police, and the military received hundreds of calls and responded to these locations. There are no answers. Several individuals have videoed the events and the sounds are tremendous shaking hundreds of homes in several cities.

Some thought it could be underground tunneling, however that theory is highly improbable. The sounds are not congruent with those made by tunneling equipment.

Reviewing Google Earth maps again, anticipating the path water from the Oroville and other dams would take after a breach, it appears flood water would absolutely devastate the Sacramento valley and surrounding areas.

Sacramento, California is one of the nation's largest agriculture producing regions, not to mention the vineyards in Napa Valley which may or may not be adversely affected in a worse case flooding scenario, is well known for wine production, another crop in which Rothschilds invest heavily.

Most, by now, are familiar with Agenda 21/2030 depopulation program which may be viewed on Deagel.com. and seen on the Georgia Guidestones on which is written; "To reduce the world's population by five hundred million."

Logic applies that should Oroville dam break, due to an anticipated earthquake, however not caused from the massive amount of water it holds as fake news predicts, but rather from a man made catastrophe from some sort of man made created pulse, say like those currently occurring in Arizona, or a strategically placed broken arrow or some other planned event, the entire Sacramento valley agriculture area would be destroyed and hundreds of thousands of lives would be lost by millions of gallons of water ripping through California, a state attempting to cede from the Union and where former imposter soon to be imprisoned for treason [President] Obama plans to relocate as some sources state as the future "King of California".

In addition, above research also includes a company in Portland, Oregon called Equilibrium. This company connects John Podesta to Dave Chen and connects to Washington, Oregon and California agriculture. Dave Chen is Chairman of the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco's Portland Branch. <http://eq-cap.com/team/dave-chen/>

Also connected to this toxic waste is Hillary Clinton, through PAC HILL and vice versa HILL PAC.

<http://freebeacon.com/politics/podesta-kept-former-investment-firm-employer-white-house/>

reads in part as follows;

....."Bill Campbell, an Equilibrium principal and the company's general counsel, emailed Podesta at his official White House address in July 2015, about seven months after he took the job.

Campbell wanted help in recruiting executives at major utilities who would back a proposed California energy efficiency financing scheme called a metered energy efficiency transaction structure (MEETS).

MEETS allows investors to finance energy efficiency projects on private land, pay its owners monthly premiums, and sell the saved energy back to the electric utility."....

Hillary Clinton is directly connected to Lynn Forrester de Rothschild as a close personal friend to whom she pays "penance."

Rothschilds corporations are directly connected to agriculture and food.

This toxic cocktail Clinton, Podesta, Rothschilds, food and agriculture, Agenda 2030 and "The water in the dam is going to cause an earthquake" is lethal.

I fear the worst in a devious plan fomenting involving all of the above players. The mere fact that 20k federal, state and local authorities merged together to prepare of an "anticipated catastrophic event" should be enough to open the eyes of even the comatose.

History shows that when society sees an event unfolding the self appointed elites planned it fifty to one hundred years in advance.

Even the Illuminati controlled Hollywood provides us with movies, I refer to as training films, that while created to subvertly provide entertainment are actually projecting future events that they have a hand in creating.

Back to the Future II shows details of the twin towers to occur twenty-thirty years in advance as an example. Even the date 911 is shown in that movie.

Another example is The Pelican Brief which could be overlaid atop Katrina event as nearly identical events. This pertains to the vast amounts of oil below Louisiana that cannot be reached. It could also explain why Louisiana keeps getting flooded to date, the resource thieving self appointed elites still can't get to the oil.

Is it any wonder that President Trump just recently threw Hollywood out of the White House?

Wonder why so many actors turn to politics after acting careers? One source explained to me " because they can read scripts." Think about that simple explanation. It makes perfect sense. MK Ultra mind controlled robotic Illuminati script readers. How simple an explanation!

Perhaps now people will look differently at McArthy when he argued that Hollywood was full of communists. Another conspiracy theory that wasn't a conspiracy at all, rather a fact the general populace refused to acknowledge but now realize that maybe they should have heeded.

Combining the players end events shown above, I theorize that these diabolical players including; Clintons, Rothschilds, and their now thrown under the bus discarded liability John Podesta, and which also may somehow include Equilibrium as a party either through Agriculture, Food, Utilities, (which would include PACIFICORP, a Rothschild owned utility entity operating through California), Energy, MEETS, Federal Reserve, or all of the above, each and all acting individually and or in concert, possibly acting with yet others not yet known, stand to gain financially should these dams break.

Consider the depopulation aspect, the west coast is rid of pestilent people. Less food production will eliminate even more population nation wide.

No people left in the way of Rothschild's PACIFICORP, Equilibrium and subsidiaries thereof, or other Rothschildian money laundering front shell companies as resource vacuums siphoning gold and other minerals, including uranium Clinton's favorite, for their own personal investments and profits.

This paper is only my hypothesis for which I pray that I am wrong. However, watching these players for many, many years, I have learned to anticipate their moves. I hope I am wrong this time.

All God given rights reserved in perpetuity.
